V. B. PALMER'S ADVERTISING AGENCY.

The AGENCY presents a convenient and complete opportunity for publishing advertisements in any number of the best and most widely-circulating newspapers of the different cities and towns throughout the whole country, at the publishers' lowest rates, with the least possible trouble to advertisers, and with the greatest despatch.

A single copy of an advertisement only is required, from which a sufficient number are printed in such style as advertisers wish to have them appear in the papers, which insures correct insertions.

By this method the advertiser is spared the labor of corresponding with the several papers, the expense of postage, and much time and perplexity in the settlement of bills. Besides this, he can know when his account is settled, and no apprehension need be entertained of the too common annoyance of bills being presented, after having been once paid.

Copies of papers containing advertisements are forwarded to advertisers, and all requisite attention given to insure general satisfaction.

The agent, V. B. PALMER, is duly empowered to receive subscriptions and advertisements at the publishers' lowest rates.

He is authorized to make contracts, and his receipts are regarded by the proprietors as payments.

The publishers' prices (only) are charged to advertisers and subscribers—and the terms of each paper are on file for examination.

A list of places, papers, terms, and prices, may be had at the Agency without charge.

His long experience and extensive Agency qualify him to impart valuable practical information, which is cheerfully communicated.

Through the Agency a circumspect and discriminating choice of places and the best selection of papers can be had, suitably adapted to various business pursuits—enabling persons to advertise judiciously, effectively, and safely.

Copies of the best newspapers in the United States, may be seen and examined at the Agency, their respective merits understood, and a complete system of advertising adopted, upon either a large or small scale.

Advertisements are carefully and skilfully written, without charge, for those who are not experienced in the art—and improvements suggested in such as are written by unpractised hands.

Through the Agency, a regular, safe, and systematic means is afforded to the business community, of giving notoriety abroad to their respective callings and pursuits—and all requisite information for the adoption of a complete system of advertising in the best newspapers of the country, far and near, for which he is deputed to transact business.

☞ To public institutions, reading-rooms, clubs, &c., as well as to individuals in all parts of the world, the Agency presents a convenient, safe, and ready means of subscribing for the best journals of the Union, advertising in any number of the most desirable business newspapers, and obtaining valuable information.

Remittances may be made from any section of the country with entire assurance that all orders will be faithfully and promptly attended to. Address V. B. PALMER, Newspaper Agent, BOSTON: Scollay's Building, Court st.—NEW YORK: Tribune Buildings.—PHILADELPHIA: N. W. corner of Third and Chesnut streets.

This eld-established agency continues to enjoy the full confidence of the press and the public.—Whatever is intrusted to Mr. P. or his agents, is promptly attended to, and, as the Press is under very great obligation to him, we are happy to know that he is enjoying the unlimited confidence, as he deserves the good wishes of those whom he has so long and so faithfully served.—Albany Evening Journal.

From an intimate acquaintance with Mr. Palmer, we are prepared to say that any business connected with the Agencies which he advertises, will be both promptly and honorably transacted. In the matter of Newspaper Agencies, he has reduced the business to such an admirable system that all parties can hardly fail to be satisfied.—New York Daily Tribune.

The following letter sets forth in a strong and clear manner the advantages of advertising. V. B. Palmer, Esq., is justly entitled to all the credit accorded to him by the writer.—Woodbury Constitution.

Correspondence of the Dayton Transcript.

PHILADELPHIA, June 29, 1846.

DEAR MAC: I arrived here by the cars on Friday night. As my time has since been chiefly occupied with business, I have not yet been to see many of the lions. One of my first devoirs was attention to your business with your agent, Mr. V. B. Palmer; and it will not be uninteresting to give you some detail of an hour's interview with this extraordinary man. I say extraordinary, because he is not only the first who has set on foot a new system of propelling the commercial machinery of the country, but has conceived the plan, through unaided foresight, and has, by perseverance and energy, despite gigantic opposition and multiplied discouragements, succeeded. He has, for five years, labored to establish a general newspaper agency, by which a regular and systematic means is afforded to business men of giving notoriety abroad to their respective branches of business. To give you some idea of his views, which you will no doubt conceive correct, he draws a comparison between all commercial pursuits and the grand theatre of mankind, in their physical and intellectual capacity.

Whereas the physical must be aided by the intellectual, in order to compete with the growing wants and demands of the former, so the material affairs of business transactions must be aided and sustained by a proportionate exercise of intellectual energy; and this intellectual energy should keep pace with the facilities by which the material affairs of business are advanced. If it does not, the same effect must from time to time arise that would result from an overgrown population without the mental discretion to provide means for their sustenance. As a portion of the community would be subject to starvation and death, so in the commercial world, that portion which with listless concern for the mere transferring and handling of merchandise—the mere materiel of trade—would inevitably be obliged to succumb to what is reputed the times, and fail. Formerly, the materiel of trade required but little intellectual exertion. While our population was comparatively small, our resources limited, our business men few, our conveyances tardy, as also our means of intelligence; it was an easy thing to give notoriety to business abroad, by means of verbal, or written, or printed communications, which were leisurely passed from one to another and read. The times are changed: instead of slow Conestoga teams, we have steamboats and locomotives; these have also superseded the mail-coach. The materiel of trade has advanced beyond all calculation for speed and dispatch.

Those business men who have consulted, with proper discretion, the facilities at hand, are advancing rapidly in the scale of fortune; while many, very many, who have availed themselves merely of those palpable aids which they were obliged to resort to, or immediately sink, are yet lingering along behind the times. Every one is now obliged, if he would keep pace with the times, to aid his physical exertions in trade, or whatever business he may be engaged in, by due recourse to those means by which his business profession may become generally known. This is the intellectual part of his business, and the press is the great medium through which it must, at the present day, be developed. Now-a-days, newspapers are diffused far and wide; they are read by all, and they afford the only vehicle by which men and establishments at a distance become generally known. At the present day, as yet, this engine of intelligence, though a most important organ of business, has not attracted attention commensurate with cotemporary improvements, simply because the materiel of business is more palpable and tangible, and it will be only by degrees that the power of the press will be acknowledged as equal to that of steam for the furtherance of business enterprise.

The advantages to be gained through the press are not, however, a universal secret, and our attention is ofttimes directed to persons who have, as if by magic, arisen from meagre circumstances to a condition of affluence and wealth. A certain grocer commences business in an obscure part of this city; his profits enable him to advertise occasionally; finding his custom increasing, he gives further publicity to his house. The surplus profits of his first business years are thus expended, and, by means of this secret, he continues to enlarge his business, until he finds himself master of a princely fortune. Who has not known or heard of the fortunes gained by the patentees of medicines, or the promulgators of panaceas, vermifuges, ague tonics, pills, &c.? The secret of their fortunes lies not alone in the intrinsic value of their nostrums, but in their availing themselves of the means of making them known. Their medicines would have remained with them, and gone with them to the grave, had they depended upon their curative powers, without making them known to the world. A few patients might have made known their virtues to several neighbors, and the custom would not have justified an extensive manufacture. Thus it is with business of every branch in existence. Publicity must be gained through the press, or the establishment, like a body without a soul, must return to the elements from which it sprang. Such are the views of Mr. Palmer; and I think them correct; and I congratulate you on having your name on his list. He is a real business man; he makes himself responsible for the pay of all advertisements sent by him, and he exerts himself nobly in the diffusion of his principles, which, from the most discouraging results of the first two years, have at length gained him the assurance that his views are correct. I might express a surprise that editors have hitherto remained so dormant on this subject; but, like every new practical theory, it must find its way to the understanding by trial; and, until its utility is as apparent as noon-day, it must, step by step, grope along an untrodden path, under the glimmering light of a few advocates.

Truly yours, IZZARD.

To such of our country cotemporaries as have not secured the services of an advertising agent in New York, we commend the old and well-established agency of Mr. V. B. Palmer, in the Tribune buildings. His business relations extend to nearly the entire press of the country; and the promptitude with which his accounts are always adjusted, has secured for him the confidence of those who have had transactions with him.—Buffalo Courier.

V. B. Palmer's plan of a newspaper agency for advertising and subscriptions, is deserving of patronage, both from the public and from the country press. Mr. Palmer has acted for the Union for five years, and we bear willing testimony to his fidelity and promptness. We feel that we should be doing him injustice were we to favor the establishment of another agency, conducted upon his plan, and the forms and arrangements stolen, as it were, from him. We shall accept of no advertisements from any other agencies in New York or Boston, and feel bound to protect Mr. Palmer as much as possible, from having the benefits of his plan taken from him by any one who may have surreptitiously availed themselves of the forms and arrangements of Mr. Palmer, in the establishment of a similar agency.—Saco (Me.) Union.

☞ V. B. PALMER, Esq., the celebrated Newspaper Agent, was in town yesterday afternoon. He looked in upon us "in a business way," and he is all business, a fine specimen of a systematic, calculating, business man. Few men, if any, in this country, understand the newspaper business better than he. Mr. P. has built up an extensive, and now profitable business, peculiarly his own. He is the agent for almost every Newspaper of any importance in the country, and collects advertisements for them, purchases materials, settles bills, &c. He preserves files, studies localities, gets a good idea of the business in the vicinity of each newspaper, and then gives the merchants in the principal cities just such information as they need. He can tell a New York, Boston, or Philadelphia merchant, in which country paper it would be to their advantage to advertise. If the merchant deals in any particular branch of dry goods, he can tell where the best country market is; and so of hardware and fancy goods, or any other article of merchandise. He can tell them of the best newspapers. In this way he is of great service to the merchants, and throws an extra shilling into the hands of the publishers. The merchants in the cities are learning this, and they give him a large business, which he finds is rapidly increasing.

"ADVERTISING," says Mr. Palmer, "is the great lever of success with the merchant." He gives illustrations by hundreds of cases, in which firms of moderate business and comparatively unknown, have resolved to expend $500, $1,000, or $2,000, and, in some cases, as high as $10,000 a-year, in advertising. Their business at once rushed up to a point of prosperity never known to them before, and in a few years the proprietors retired on a princely fortune. "This is all natural enough—all reasonable enough," says Mr. Palmer; "the newspapers give the public, far and near, every-day information. A merchant can make himself known, and the nature of his business, too, through the newspapers. He can draw the eyes of 50,000 persons directly upon his store and stock of goods, and by doing so, he can not fail to increase his sales to an enormous extent." "Why!" continued Mr. Palmer, "this matter is not yet fully understood, but our dealers throughout the country are getting awake to the subject, and it will not be long before a merchant will as soon think of taking a journey in a car without an engine attached, as to attempt to succeed in business without advertising. Everybody sees that all who go into the advertising plan extensively succeed, while most others who do not take this advantage, grope along far in the rear."—Success to V. B. Palmer, and his grand agency enterprise!—Hartford Times.

CHEATING PRINTERS.—We receive an invitation almost every day from some fellow who claims to be an advertising agent, to insert somebody's advertisement, and he will pay for it. We have been "wooled" on several occasions by these sharpers, and we caution the country press against the rascals. V. B. Palmer is the only agent for the press that we ever had any transactions with who pays promptly and acts honorably. We recommend him to the profession.—Albany Knickerbocker.

Mr. V. B. Palmer, American Newspaper and Advertising Agent, in the cities of Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York, and Boston, has been appointed agent for receiving and forwarding subscriptions and advertisements for this paper, at his office in those cities respectively. The general newspaper agency established by Mr. Palmer in the above places has been in existence some time, and will, doubtless, be found convenient and advantageous for all newspaper proprietors who shall think fit to avail themselves of it.—National Intelligencer.

BUSINESS MEN are every year becoming more impressed with the fact that, to build up a "trade," to increase their sales, or even to retain their "old customers," they must employ some method to keep themselves and their wares constantly "before the people." Advertising exerts a controlling influence over trade—is a method which every one can employ. Dr. Johnson, in his "Idler," says:

"Every man now knows a ready method of informing the public all that he desires to sell or buy, whether his wares be material or intellectual—whether he makes clothes or teaches the mathematics—whether he be a tutor that wants a pupil, or a pupil that wants a teacher."

Essays have been written on the subject of advertising and its importance to business men. The fact, however, that almost every one can see, in the wealth or trade of his neighbor, the benefit resulting directly from advertising outweighs all that has ever been written on the subject. The only question at issue is, the best manner in which to advertise. The local press opens a wide door through which purchasers may be reached; and business men of the cities, by employing those presses, are making inroads on the trade of country dealers. V. B. Palmer, of New York, for instance, is engaged by merchants of that city, to spread their business before purchasers through the columns of the local press; and the fact that the business of country advertising is constantly increasing, is sufficient evidence that the means employed are effectual in securing the object desired.

There are business men in our village who close their eyes to the importance of advertising in the papers printed in their midst; but they can not fail to see that those who do advertise derive benefit from their neglect—they can not see their "old customers" trading at the counter of a rival in business, and yet deny the power of the agency employed to effect the change.—Newburg Telegraph.

Mr. Palmer has, by dint of great energy and indefatigable industry, succeeded in organizing this agency, and accomplishing, by means of it, objects that were deemed altogether chimerical when it was first commenced. His success has raised up a number of imitators, who now advertise Newspaper Agencies in the Eastern cities. Mr. Palmer is no way connected with any of these. Having the most unlimited confidence in his capacity and integrity, he is fully authorized to make all necessary contracts as agent for this paper. We wish it to be distinctly understood, that we have no other agent in any of the cities of New York, Philadelphia, or Boston, and that all inquiries relative to such contracts, coming from these cities, even although directed to ourselves, will be referred to his agency.—Louisville Democrat.

We have been humbugged all we ever shall be, by Eastern Agents; and now want it distinctly understood, that we shall insert no advertisements hereafter, unless accompanied by the money, as per terms in our paper, unless received through V. B. Palmer, Esq., our only authorized Agent, in New York, Boston, and Philadelphia.—Monroe Commerc.

Palmer's enterprise, accompanied as it is with untiring industry, clear-sightedness, indomitable energy, and unwavering perseverance, deserves the reward which we have never doubted he would eventually receive.—Philadelphia Ledger.

V. B. Palmer is our only agent for receiving advertisements and subscriptions in Boston, New York, and Philadelphia. To him the country is indebted for the extensive and valuable system of general advertising. He deserves the gratitude and co-operation of the whole business community. —Maine Democrat.

ADVERTISING.

Trade, like everything else, sometimes changes its old landmarks, and finds new. It is a common remark, how different the method of doing business, as it is termed, is of late years from what it was formerly. Perhaps in no respect is there more noticeable alteration than in the efforts made to bring seller and buyer in contact. The old plan of advertising occasionally, and then so timorously that it seemed as if the advertiser was somehow afraid of committing himself over his own signature, has become effete and unsuitable to the times. Advertising has now become systematized, reduced almost to a science, as it were, and therefore if one would succeed by means of it, he must take hold of it thoroughly and in earnest. A half-way and irresolute advertiser is rather a benefit than otherwise to his more enterprising and persevering competitor, the ability of the latter appearing all the more striking for the contrast.

Fortunes have been made by liberal advertising; men are now making them by it, and they will continue to. It is the grand secret of success in trade. The man who has foresight enough to keep his business and his merchandise before the public, is seldom wanting in the other requisites of prosperity, and is thus almost invariably sure to thrive. Readers of newspapers turn to the business columns almost as surely as to columns of news. If they have wants to be supplied, they see where they can accommodate themselves with the least trouble and expenditure, and they do so to the mutual advantage of advertiser and reader. That advertising, like many other good things, has its abuses, we are by no means disposed to deny. But the very facility with which it has enabled quacks to impose upon the credulous, is a proof of its wondrous aid to those who look to the public for support. The honest man should see to this. If knaves and ignoramuses can enrich themselves by freely advertising, how much should they who have an honest reputation, and whose word can be relied upon?

Since the completion of the various railroads, running like a vast net-work over the country, the shrewd city-merchants' cards may be seen in papers hundreds of miles away. Their sagacity instructs them that these will fall under the notice of the country dealer who wishes to replenish his stock, and the consumer who has a mind to see the city fashions, and try the city prices. Thus has sprung up an enterprise which would have been laughed at as impracticable a dozen years ago. This originated, as most of our readers are aware, with V. B. Palmer, Esq., who is known already wherever an American newspaper finds its way. His offices, in all the largest cities in the Union, are great advertising and subscribing centres, where all business connected with the press is transacted for its distant patrons with much celerity and greater convenience and safety than by the former mode.—Gloucester Telegraph.

V. B. Palmer, the American Newspaper Agent, is the only authorized Agent for this paper in the cities of Boston, Philadelphia, and New York, and is duly empowered to take advertisements and subscriptions, at the rates as required by us. His receipts will be regarded as payments.—Washington Union.

Mr. Palmer is, we believe, entitled to the credit of originating and establishing, upon a general scale, in this country, this new and important public convenience, and we doubt not that its advantages will be duly understood and appreciated, and the enterprise by which they are afforded fairly rewarded.—Baltimore Sun.

V. B. PALMER'S AMERICAN NEWSPAPER AGENCY.

Horace, the Roman poet, speaks with contempt of imitators, and calls them a servile herd. Yet, though not the highest order of human intelligences, these men fulfil their part in the business of the world. Nothing was made in vain. Imitators form a test by which you may judge the value of any novelty. If we see a crowd of imitators about anything, we may be sure there is something good in it; just as a crowd of sea-birds, hovering above the sea, let the people know that a shoal of fish is underneath; or as straws and other light things, carried along by the current, serve to show the speed and direction of it, without helping the stream in the least, or increasing its volume.

If we wanted any assurance — which we do not — that our system of advertising is an admirable one and going ahead prosperously, we should find it in the fact, that several persons have hitched themselves on to our plan, and are marching along our road, which they have wit enough to perceive must lead in the end, if properly followed, to success — though whether it may lead them to success is quite another question. But the field is a broad one, and they will have success who merit it — according to Lord Nelson's motto.

For the last ten years we have been making a plan and perfecting it: and as we pretend to no copy-right, we must only make the excellence of our system a sufficient one. We wish to say that ours has no connection with any others who advertise newspaper agencies in the Northern states. — Our facilities for doing all that we profess in the line we have struck out lie in the number and character of the papers which have confided to us the exclusive agency, embracing the best and most widely circulated journals of the cities and towns in the various parts of the country — the system and regularity with which our business is done — the experience of years which we have had of the method of carrying it on — our knowledge of the peculiar character and wants of the several districts of country, and the consequent ease with which we can meet the wishes and consult the interests of our advertising friends. We know that the means and appliances of our business are beyond all competition. Such as they are, they shall be still further improved as we get along, and earnestly directed to the benefit of the business public.—This system of ours is not altogether a machine for making money. We take the pride of an inventor in it; and do that, from strong paternal feelings, which others may be supposed to do, merely for the sake of the net proceeds. We do not see why he should not have the satisfaction, so dear to every true citizen of a state, of doing something to serve it in his day and generation — something by which people may remember him when he is gone away to answer the advertisement which every man is bound to notice. Although not so great a man in our own estimation as Fourier, the Frenchman, we do not see why we also should not try and leave our mark upon the industrial progress of our native country.

WHEELER & WILSON MANUFACTURING COMPANY'S

IMPROVED SEWING MACHINES.

Office and Warerooms at 343 Broadway, New York.

TO THE PUBLIC.

As the fact is now well established that Sewing Machines are destined to do a greater portion of the work heretofore done by the needle, it becomes a matter of the first importance to the public, to ascertain which of the many kinds thrown upon their credulity will practically and fully do all that is so freely and strongly promised by their proprietors and their numerous agents scattered through the country.

The proprietors of the Wheeler & Wilson Manufacturing Co.'s Machine, have been willing to submit it to the most searching practical test; and the result has, in every case, been of the most satisfactory kind, not only to themselves in the sale of their machines, but to their numerous customers, who invariably give their testimony in favor of the quality of the work, the great rapidity with which it can be done, and the ease with which they can be kept in the most perfect order. The machine which will do the work the most rapidly, and at the same time more perfect than any other, is the cheapest without regard to price, for no manufacturer or sewer can successfully meet the competition in the market, without securing to themselves the very best facilities for doing the work in the quickest and most satisfactory manner.

It is our determination not to promise any thing for our machine which it will not perform, but to rely upon its actual merits for its success. We present our Sewing Machine to the public, and ask for it the most strict and careful examination, feeling confident that it will fully meet the expectations of our customers, and do all and more than we promise for it. The annexed engravings are views of our Sewing Machine, and for which a patent was granted on the 15th June, 1852. Mr. Wilson had invented and received patents for previous Sewing Machines, but this is a manifest improvement over all others.

WHEELER & WILSON

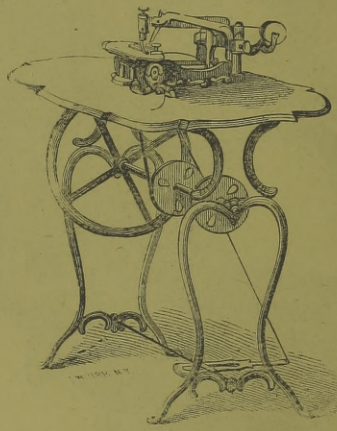
MANUFACTURING COMPANY'S

IMPROVED

SEWING MACHINES,

MANUFACTURED AT WATERTOWN, CONN.

Office and Warerooms at 343 Broadway, New York.



These Machines have been in successful operation, in the hands of manufacturers and families, for the past two years, and in every case have given entire satisfaction. The Proprietors are now prepared to offer them to the public, with that increased confidence in their merits which the united testimony of their numerous customers has strengthened and confirmed.

These Machines are entirely different from any other, the principles on which they are made being exclusively our own. Among the advantages of this machine over any others are the following:—

1. The simplicity of its construction, and the ease with which it can be kept in the most perfect order.

2. The perfect manner with which the operator is enabled to stitch and sew the various kinds of work, from the finest linen to the coarsest cloths.

3. It particularly excels in the rapidity with which work can be executed; in that respect it has no equal.

4. The little power required to propel them, enabling even those of the most delicate constitution to use them without injury to their health.

We are now manufacturing a larger sized Machine, more particularly adapted to the sewing of leather, canvas bags, and the heavier kinds of cloths.

An examination of our Machines is respectfully solicited at our Office, 343 Broadway

SELPHO'S

First Premium Anglesey Leg,

Introduced into the country, and made solely by WM. SELPHO, 24 Spring Street, New-York. This description of Artificial Leg derives its name from the celebrated Marquis of Anglesey, who lost his leg in the battle of Waterloo, by whom it has been adopted and worn ever since its first invention by the late ingenious Mr. Potts, of London, to whom the present artist was eleven years a pupil and assistant.

"I have seen the artificial Leg of Mr. Selpho; its construction appears excellent, and well calculated to answer all the objects desired. But the best of all is the proof of those who wear them; this is positive and undeniable.
V. MOTT, Professor of Surgery, University of N. Y."

ALSO,

SELPHO'S ARTIFICIAL HAND,

an entirely new and useful substitute for a lost hand, so arranged that the wearer can open and shut the hand by means of the remaining stump.

☞ W. S. will give further information by application, or by letter, post paid.
